

FACING EVICTION ?

STAY PUT. DON'T PANIC.

Getting an eviction notice can be scary. Stay in your rental and use free resources when facing eviction. Washington State has protections in place to help tenants.

YOU ARE ENTITLED TO FREE LEGAL COUNSEL

It's important to request free legal assistance from Volunteer Lawyers Program (VLP) or another legal program.

Volunteer Lawyers Program—VLP
509-477-2674

OR

Northwest
Justice Project
1-855-657-8387

CONTACT THE TENANTS UNION

The Tenants Union of WA State can answer all questions you might have about renting.

Tenants Union of WA State
206-723-0500

RESPOND TO ALL NOTICES

It is important that you respond to all court notices.

Interpreters are available
in all languages.

Eviction Helper Tool
nwjustice.org

FREE MEDIATION MAY BE AN OPTION

If you would like to work with a mediator to resolve your eviction notice, contact a Dispute Resolution Center right away, so they can reach out to your landlord.

Northwest Mediation
509-456-0103 x1

OR

Fulcrum Institute
509-838-2799

